ZAMINDARI DÁK CESS IN BENGAL.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS

Calcutta, the 16th April, 1892.

RESOLUTION No. 1135.

READ—

Letter from the Secretary, British Indian Association, dated the 17th April 1890.

Letter to the Secretary, British Indian Association, No. 1137, dated the 29th July 1890.

Letter from the Secretary, British Indian Association, No. 30, dated the 5th September 1890.

Circular letter to the Officiating Postmaster-General, Bengal, and Commissioners of Divisions, No. 2T.G., dated the 23rd September 1890.

Letter from the Officiating Postmaster-General, Bengal, No. 33547, dated the 13th January 1891.

Letter from the Officiating Postmaster-General, Bengal, No. 5736Z, dated the 14th May 1891, and enclosure.

Letter to the Officiating Postmaster-General, Bengal, No. 60T.G., dated the 16th June 1891.

Letter to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, No. 61T.G., dated the 16th June 1891.

Letter from the Postmaster-General, Bengal, No. $\frac{171}{\text{JD—No. 1}}$, dated the 12th March 1892, and enclosure.

Letter from the Postmaster-General, Bengal, No. 681, dated the 5th April 1892.

The Government has had under consideration the question of substituting a fixed annual payment for the variable charge on account of the district post now devolving on zamindars under Act VIII (B.C.) of 1862, for the purpose of maintaining communications between police officers, police-stations, and District and Sub-divisional Magistrates. The proposal emanated from the British Indian Association in April 1890, and the Postmaster-General, Bengal, was asked to report on it.

2. Mr. Colvin, with his letter of the 14th May 1891, submitted in reply a note reviewing the whole zamindari dák system, and suggested among other things the fixing of the cess for a period of ten years, and the amalgamation of it for collection purposes with the land revenue. The Lieutenant-Governor was favourably inclined towards the first proposal; but as it was probable that the effect of it would be that, if any additional zamindari dák lines were required to be opened in any district, there would be no money available for the purpose, except that set free by the Imperial post taking over any existing lines, His Honour deemed it necessary that the matter should be carefully considered before the Government accepted existing facts for a term of years. The Postmaster-General was accordingly asked to report whether any such extensions (of zamindari dák lines) were urgently wanted; whether there were any definite advantages, or the contrary, in fixing the cess for a term of years; whether its present variability caused serious inconvenience; whether it was true that zamindars fail to pay the cess and come under the punitive clause of section 9 of the Act through not knowing what they have to pay when the rate is raised; what steps should be taken to make the rate known to the zamindars; whether any establishment of peons was maintained for the purpose of notifying the rate; and if so, whether the cost of the same could be saved by the fixation of the rate for a term of years.

3. Zamindars are now, by rule 3 of the Revenue Money-Order Rules (section XIV, chapter IV of the Board's Miscellaneous Rules, 1888), able to pay their land revenue, road and public works cesses, and zamindari dâk cess, in one revenue money-order form, distinguishing what is meant for the cess and costs and interest in each case; and, primâ facie, there seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be no reason why they should not be required to do so; but before issuing orders to this effect, he has deemed it necessary to ascertain from the Divisional Commissioners and District Officers, through the Board of Revenue, whether the proposal is feasible, and if not, what would prevent its being carried out. His Honour considers that it is wasteful to have one tauzi-navis keeping a list of all estates, showing the land revenue due from each, the kists when due, and the payments for the same; and another clerk keeping a list of all estates paying above Rs. 50, showing the zamindari dák cess due, its kists, and its payments. In addition to the economy that could thus be effected, there would be some saving in the cost of the peons who are separately maintained for issuing notices of default and collecting these payments.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has since ascertained that in the 24-Parganas (a) the zamindari dák cess stands at 8 annas per cent. of the land revenue, and has been unchanged for three years; (b) that there are two kists, the 1st June and 1st December, but (c) that the bakijai is made out only once a year for the December kist—not for the June kist; (d) that a penalty is imposed theoretically only when a certificate issues—practically not at all; and (e) that the tauzi register is an unauthorized (though useful) form invented by a Deputy Collector. In the Howrah district the rate has been changed annually, having been 15 annas in 1889, Re. 1 in 1890, 12 annas in 1891, and Re. 1-1 in 1892. There is one kist due on 1st January, and if the cess is unpaid in that month, the penalty is added to the amount unpaid. Nothing more is done till the end of the calendar year, when an arrear list is sent to the Collector of Hooghly, and certificates are issued. In the Cuttack district the rate has varied annually, ranging between Re. 0-9-5·59 and Re. 1-0-9·38, the calculation being made to two decimals of pies. Last year the list of estates liable to the cess was revised and a considerable number struck off, having been reduced by batwara below Rs. 50 land revenue. These instances, His Honour considers, are sufficient to show how irregularly the working of the cess is carried on, and it seems to him that it would be well for Government to try to introduce uniformity in all these details.

5. The reply of the Postmaster-General, Bengal, to the Government letter of the 16th June 1891, in which he was asked to report on the question of keeping the rate of the zamindari dák cess unchanged from year to year, has been received and considered: the statement furnished by him shows that practically no changes in the zamindari dák lines or expenditure are anticipated in the next year, and His Honour is satisfied that the cess should be fixed for at least five years, beginning from January 1893. The Board of Revenue should determine at once, in consultation with all Collectors, what the rate should be. It should be in tolerably round figures, if possible, such as eight annas, twelve annas, one rupee, one rupee four annas, and so on: and in any case there should be no pies and no decimals. Estates which pay less than Rs. 50 as land revenue in consequence of batwara should not be exempted under section 8 of the Act from payment of the cess.

6. The kist should be a single one only, and its date should agree with the date of one of the land revenue kists, probably the largest one of the year. The Board, in reporting what the rate of the cess should be, should also recommend, in consultation with the Collectors, the kist with which the cess should be collected. The arrear list should be made up (in a prescribed form) as nearly as possible 30 days after the kist, and the penalty under section 9 of the Act should then be added.

7. Although Act VIII (B.C.) of 1862 places the zamindari dák cess under the Magistrate, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it had better be dealt with, as far as the demand and collections are concerned, in the Collector's office. Under sections 3, 5, 7 and 8 of the Act, Government can appoint the Collector to be "such other officer" in the place of the Magistrate.

8. The question whether it is possible to keep the accounts of the cess in the same tauzi ledger as the land revenue and road cess is under consideration by Mr. W. C. Macpherson, who has been appointed to report on reforms of the tauzi procedure generally. If this is not found possible, a form of tauzi ledger for the dák cess must be devised and prescribed.

9. A statement of the demands and collections on account of the zamindari dák, and also a return showing the expenditure and balance, should be attached to the Board's Annual Report on the Land Revenue Administration in future, and the necessary paragraphs summing up the facts, should be included in the Report. The cess is not of sufficient importance to be treated in a separate report like the Road Cess. Appended is a statement extracted from the return submitted by the Postmaster-General, Bengal, showing the demands, collections, and arrears, and also the expenditure on account of the District Post. From this statement it appears that there are very large arrears outstanding in some districts, and steps should be taken to reduce the amounts. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the figures may be verified by the Collectors and the Accountant-General, Bengal.

Explanation — indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 26th April 1892

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 23RD OF APRIL 1892.

AT the beginning of the week the pressure distribution over the province was distinctly abnormal; there was a defect of considerably more than a tenth of an inch in the western parts of South Bihár and Chota Nagpur, and a defect of from a twentieth to a tenth of an inch over the central and western parts of the province generally, while at the eastern stations and in Burma pressure was practically normal. Baric gradients were therefore unusually steep over the province, and hence favoured the strong south-easterly and easterly winds which prevailed at all stations. These winds brought up much moisture, and hence humidity was very high, though temperature was generally a little below the normal. A few local storms were reported in South-West Bengal on the evening of the 17th instant, but in East and North Bengal they were rather numerous. These conditions continued practically unaltered on the 18th, and again on the evening of this day local storms with rain were numerous, almost every station in East and North Bengal receiving rain, while a few storms were reported in North Bihár and in parts of South-West Bengal. On the 19th the area of defective pressure extended, and in parts of Bihár and South-West Bengal pressure became from an eighth to a tenth of an inch below the normal. On the 20th the fall of pressure continued across the centre of the province, and on the 21st it became largest at the eastern and northern stations, while the fall was comparatively small in Bihár and South-West Bengal, and there was a general defect in the pressure over the province ranging from about a tenth of an inch in the south-eastern districts to nearly a sixth of an inch at some of the central and western stations, and thus practically a barometric depression existed over the province on this day. On the 22nd the depression became rather more marked, and pressure was about a quarter of an inch below the normal in Bihár and North Bengal, and the centre of greatest defect had been removed to North Bengal. Winds therefore became more westerly than they had been, and over the western half of the province winds were westerly, south-westerly and southerly, thus partially driving back the moist easterly and south-easterly current which had been previously prevailing. Owing, however, to the great differences of pressure, the wind force for the whole of this time continued very high. Up to this date, therefore, many local storms with rain continued to occur in the east and north of the province, but on the 22nd they became less numerous. On the 23rd a rather rapid increase of pressure took place, and the defect in Bengal was partially filled up, but still conditions were abnormal, and on this day strong southerly winds were blowing at almost all stations, and except at a few stations in North Bengal, rainfall was practically absent from the whole province. The principal features in the meteorology of the week have, therefore, been the abnormally low pressure, particularly in the west and north of the province, the exceedingly strong winds which have accompanied this distribution of pressure, and the numerous local storms with rain which have occurred in the east and north of the province, and on the last two days of the week the high temperatures which have been registered.

Pressure—As stated previously, has been in defect of the normal throughout the week; the mean defect has ranged from about 0·08″ at Gopalpore and False Point to about 0·13″ to 0·15″ at the western stations in South Bihár, while the general defect over the province has equalled about a tenth of an inch.

Temperature—Has been above the normal at the western stations almost throughout the week, but elsewhere it was generally in defect till the close of the week, when it became above the normal in all districts. The mean temperature for the week for the whole province is almost absolutely normal, but the western divisions, such as Chota Nagpur and Orissa, show excess temperatures of 2° and 3°; while North Bengal, on the other hand, shows a defect of nearly 4°.

The distribution of temperature over the province and its variation from the normal are clearly seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. It will be seen the day temperatures have been generally in defect, while the night or minimum temperatures have been rather largely in excess of the normal:—

Rainfall.—The heaviest falls during the week have occurred in East Bengal, which has received 2 70 inches, or about two inches more than usual for the period. North Bengal has received an average fall of 1 53 inches, or nearly half an inch in excess. The only other district receiving rather heavy rain has been South-West Bengal with an average amount of 0·70 inch, or practically a normal fall for the period. North Bihár has received 0·20 inch, and South Bihár, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa falls averaging only a few thousandths of an inch, and in these cases the falls are less than the normal amounts.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 23rd of April 1892:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 33*Marine.*—UNDER the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Masters of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF MASTERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangements have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiners to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 2*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Certificates as to age.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English, their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Foreigners to know English.

Colour Tests.

8. The Government have made the following arrangements for the examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish colours :—

9. Examinations in colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

10. Any persons including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in Colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2*a*, and pay a fee of one rupee.

11. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office; and if he passes he will receive a certificate to that effect.

12. If he fails, it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2*b*. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

16. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form Exn. 2_a.

17. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

18. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This Officer has failed to pass the examination in Colours."

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

20. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as First Class Masters.

21. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for certificates of competency must first be examined in Colours.

22. A candidate for a certificate as first class master of inland steam-vessels must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served as second class master in charge of a steam-vessel for not less than three years, or he must be not less than twenty-two years of age, hold a certificate of competency as second mate granted under Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1883, or a certificate to which the provisions of any such Act have been made applicable under the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869, and have served as mate of an inland steam-vessel or master of a river flat for not less than one year; or he must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served either not less than three years at sea and three years as mate of a river-steamer or master of a river flat, or not less than six years as mate of a river steamer or master of a river flat.

23. Each candidate will be examined apart, and vivâ voce, in each and all of the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of river steamers under all contingencies.
(3)—The tide table.
(4)—Storm signals.
(5)—The provisions of Act VI of 1884, and the rules framed under sections 21, 29, 50 and 51 of the Act.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as Second Class Masters.

24. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in Colours.

25. A candidate for a certificate as second class master of an inland steam-vessel must not be less than twenty-one years of age and must produce satisfactory certificates of sobriety and intelligence, and that he has served three years as Mate of a small steam-vessel or as chief helmsman of a steam-vessel of over 80 horse-power, and shall be examined vivâ voce as to his knowledge in the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of small river steamers.
(3)—Storm signals.

Failure.

26. If a candidate fails, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of such failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

27. If a candidate has failed in his examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a certificate of such lower grade.

28. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled so to do, for re-examination for the higher grade of certificate, he will be required to pay again the full fee.

Fees.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2_b, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have filfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee will be returned to him.

32. If the candidate satisfy the examiners as to his knowledge of the prescribed subjects, and generally as to his competency to command an inland river steamer, they shall certify the same to the Government, which will then grant a certificate to the candidate.

33. The fees are as follows:—

	Rs.
First Class Master	16
Second Class Master	6

General.

34 Certificates of competency of first and second class masters shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 34*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers and First class Engine drivers of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF ENGINEERS AND FIRST CLASS ENGINE-DRIVERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Application how to be made.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon Form Exn. 3*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 3*b*, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials required.

4. Testimonials of character and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct, for at least the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. If the service has been on shore, the testimonial must be signed by an employer; if at sea, by either the master, managing owner, chief or superintending engineer.

5. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidates can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 3*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

6. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificate as to age.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles.

9. Services which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as Engineers.

Qualification of candidate for Inland Engineer's Certificate.

10. A candidate must be not less than twenty-two years of age :—

Or, failing the above service, he must have served as a certificated engine-driver in charge of a steamer for not less than four years.

(b) He must be able to give a description of boilers and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connections.

(c) He must understand how to correct defects from accident, decay or other causes, and the means of repairing such defects.

(d) He must understand the use of the barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(e) He must state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(f) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(g) He must write a legible hand, and understand the first five rules of arithmetic and decimals, and their application to questions about consumption of stores, and full capacities of tanks and bunkers, the duty of pumps, and the direct strains in engines and boilers.

(h) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various constructions of paddle and screw engines in general use; as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as first class Engine-drivers.

11. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 3*b*.), which must be filled up at the Port Office.

12. A candidate for a certificate of competency as first class engine-driver must have attained the age of twenty-two years.

13. He must have served an apprenticeship of at least four years if in India, or three years in the United Kingdom, and have served as assistant engineer for one year on a steamer of not less than 80 horse-power.

Or he must have been three years principal serang or tindal in the engine-room of a steamer, or have been for three years in charge of the engine of a factory or mill under a European manager or engineer, as well as one year principal serang or tindal or assistant engineer in the engine-room of a steamer under a certificated engineer.

14. He must have the testimonial shown in Appendix B filled up by the engineer with whom he has last served, or his other testimonials must contain all the particulars therein required.

15. He must pass a viva voce examination before the Board of Examiners as to the working of an engine and the use of its different parts.

16. He must be able, if required, to show his practical qualifications by one week's trial in a steamer after fulfilling the other tests to which he will be subjected.

General Rules as to Examinations.

17. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and applicants will not be permitted to take into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever; and, subject to the provisions referred to hereafter, they will also not be allowed to work out their problems on a slate or on waste paper.

Candidates not to take books, &c., into examination room.

18. Candidates will be allowed in the time allotted to cancel any part of their work, and, when required, additional papers will be supplied by the Examiners. These additional sheets must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

19. In the event of any candidate being discovered copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another during the time of examination, he will be regarded as having failed in his examination, and will be turned back for three months, in the same manner as if he had failed in the practical part of the examination; and no part of the fees he may have paid for examination will be returned to him.

Punishment for breaking rules.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may substitute other data or another question.

Leaving examination room.

21. All applicants presenting themselves for examination for certificates of competency as engineers will be required to give written answers to eight out of a list of ten questions selected from Form Exn. 15*a*, "Elementary Questions for the first examinations of Engineers for certificates of competency." These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their viva voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the viva voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the viva voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

(Exn. 15.)

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15.

Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates (Exn. 16).

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

	Rs.
Engineers	12
First class engine-drivers	10

Failure.

33. If the applicant fails in the vivâ voce or practical part of the examination, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service afloat. If he fails in arithmetic or drawing only, he may come up again at any time. Engine-drivers may be examined de novo after six months, if the past examination showed that they might reasonably be expected to qualify.

General.

34. Certificates of competency of engineers and first class engine-drivers shall be made out and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

STATEMENT OF THE COURSE OF BUSINESS.

THE HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"Before we begin the proceedings of the day, I ask your permission to make a brief statement of the course of legislation which I propose to lay before the Council, and which I trust will be carried through in the Session which we have to-day begun. You are aware, no doubt, that we had two Bengal Bills which would, in the ordinary course, have been laid before this Council. One was a Bill to amend the Court of Wards' Act, and the other was a Bill to create and define the terms of service for a new body—the Bengal Military Police—in which the existing Military Reserves and the force known as the Chittagong Hills Frontier Police, now serving in the South Lushai district, are merged. Both of these Bills were, however, taken over by the Government of India, and have been passed into law by the Supreme Legislative Council, and consequently there was no legislative work ready to be laid before this Council during the cold weather.

"We, however, are not confined, like the Supreme Council, to the short period of the cold weather for carrying on our legislation, but we are able to conduct it all through the year. I trust in the present Session we shall be able to pass three Bills. Two of these are to be introduced and laid before the Council and, I believe, forwarded one stage to-day. These are the Bill to amend the Village Chaukidari Act of 1870 and the Bill to make better arrangements for the distribution of the charges for keeping up a Fire-brigade in Calcutta. The objects and reasons and the nature and provisions of these Bills will be laid before the Council by the hon'ble members in charge, and it is unnecessary for me to make any remarks upon them.

"There is a third Bill which I should have been glad, if it had been possible, to present to you to-day. I mean the Bill to amend the Bengal Municipal Act. We are not, however, sufficiently forward with our preparations to enable me to ask the Council to permit its introduction to-day. The Bill has been drafted in a tentative form, and has been circulated to all District Officers in Bengal with instructions to procure the opinions of the different Municipal Corporations in their districts upon the provisions of the Bill; and though that was done some months ago, and I hoped that by this time we should have had all the replies ready and tabulated and a précis made of them, so that, after making any necessary alterations in the first tentative draft, the Bill might have been brought forward and published to-day, the replies have not been received from a good many districts, and the case did not appear to be sufficiently forward to justify me in troubling the Council with it upon this occasion. I trust, however, that we shall meet again in July, and I may then be able to lay this Bill before you, and that we shall possibly either complete it during the Session of July and August, or possibly it may be necessary, in order to fully consult public opinion and to give the amplest consideration to all the changes which may be proposed and to all objections which may be taken, to postpone it till the cold weather. However, with regard to the other two Bills, which, I believe, contain much less contentious matter, I trust we shall be able in the Session of July and August to give them final consideration and to pass them into law.

"The programme of our legislation is therefore this, that these two Bills shall be introduced to-day and referred to Select Committees, and that the further consideration of them shall be taken up in July, so that they may in all probability be passed into law in July and August; and that the Municipal Act Amendment Bill shall be introduced in July, and such progress as may be found possible made with it so as to complete it in that Session, or else, if necessary, to postpone it for a month or two later, but at any rate to carry it through before the end of the calendar year."

VILLAGE CHAUKIDARI ACT, 1870, AMENDMENT BILL.

THE HON'BLE MR. COTTON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to further amend the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870.

He said:—"Mr. President, as I shall ask you to be good enough to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business to enable me to introduce this Bill in Council, I do not propose to address the Council on the subject of the Bill at the present stage. I now merely ask permission to introduce the Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton said:—"I now apply to your Honour to suspend the Rules of Business to enable me at this meeting to introduce the Bill to further amend the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870, and to move that it be read in Council. The object of my asking for this suspension of the Rules of Business is merely to be able to advance the Bill a definite stage to-day, in order that it may be published, and that public opinion may be obtained upon it before measures are taken for passing it into law."

The Hon'ble the President having declared the Rules of Business to be suspended—

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton said:—"The Bill which I have now in my hands is a comparatively small measure. It effects further amendments in the Village Chaukidari Act of 1870, which hon'ble members will doubtless recollect has been on two or three occasions before this Council for amendment. An amendment of that Act was passed in 1871, and again after considerable discussion, in 1886.

"Although this Bill is in its way a very small measure, I shall, I fear, be obliged to occupy the time of the Council for a few minutes in explaining its principle, which is opposed in some important particulars to the principle of the existing law. The village watch of Bengal, as of all India, is one of the oldest institutions of the country connected with the village system itself, and the village watchman of ancient Hindu times is substantially the counterpart of the village watchman as he is recognised by existing legislation; that is to say, the village watchman is ordinarily a member of an hereditary thieving caste, and responsible for his behaviour to no one except to the village community by whom he is maintained. That was the constitution of the village watch in ancient Hindu times, and it is practically the constitution of the village watch at the present day. Under the Mogul administration there was some change effected. The character of the Mogul Government was eminently fiscal, and the village watchman, instead of being the village servant, became to a very large extent the servant of the zamindar, and that dual position remained for a very long time under British rule, and still remains in all parts of the country where Act VI of 1870 has not been enforced. The object of Act VI of 1870 was to place the village watch everywhere under the control of the village organization. The principle of the Bill, as stated by the hon'ble member who introduced it, was this:—'The village watchman is purely a village servant employed for the protection of the lives and the property of the villagers, and looking to the village community for the regular payment of the remuneration to which he is entitled.' It was laid down at that time in this way. It was said municipalise more, trust the people, trust the villagers with the control of their own village watch, and great improvement in Police administration will ensue. That doctrine was of course hotly discussed and disputed in this Council; but ultimately it prevailed, and the effect of the present chaukidari law is to place the village watch entirely under the control and under the influence of the village community. The Bill, I have now the honour to place before you, introduces a modification of this principle. It is my own view strongly, and it is the view of the present Government, that the Police is a branch of the administration which ought to be brought into closer relations with the Government; and I for one—and I trust the Council will join me in this—look forward to the time when the village watch will be so largely modified as to become the real efficient Police of the country, and when the existing constabulary will have virtually no other functions to discharge than those of escort and guard, and to some extent that of process-serving. The present Bill is a slight step in this direction—not a very decisive step perhaps—for it does not pretend to be more than a very gradual and small measure, but it is a step in the direction of centralizing Police administration, and of bringing the village watch much more than it now is under the immediate supervision of the District Magistrate who represents the Government in the mufassal. I apprehend, gentlemen, that this change of principle which we are introducing will, so soon as it is realised, be unfavourably received by a considerable section of public opinion in Bengal. The meaning of the Bill does not, however, seem to have been understood as yet by the general public, for I have before me the report of the Indian Association, who so far misconceive the object of the Bill as to say that they welcome it as a further expansion of the principle of Local Self-Government in these Provinces. The prayer of the Association is, that further powers may be given to the punchayet of the village. Now I must say, once for all, that this Government does not look on the administration of the Police as in any way connected with the development or extension of the principle of Local Self-Government; on the contrary, we believe that if there is any duty of the Government which it is inexpedient to municipalise, it is the control of the Police. The inhabitants of a village have no claim to a municipal administration in any respect, still less have they any claim to control the Police. For the discharge of such duties the highest possible qualifications must be secured, and when the low calibre of the men who constitute a village punchayet is considered, the advantage appears to be wholly on the side of a Police administration by the Central Government. I am not only expressing my own decided opinion in this matter, but I may remind the Council that the subject is amply discussed by no less an eminent authority than the late Mr. John Stuart Mill, whose book on representative Government might well be more widely read in this country amongst the friends and advocates of Local Self-Government. He lays down in that volume with great force and clearness that the Police is a department of the Government which cannot be entrusted to the representatives of a rural tract; and so in England, we have withdrawn the control of the village police from the villagers, and the old village watch has disappeared. In Bengal we do not go so far as to desire that the village watch of this country shall altogether disappear, and we wish to adhere to the only sound element of the chaukidari system, viz., that of retaining the local knowledge of men resident in the village in which they are to be employed; but we do desire to modify it materially, and the direction this modification takes is, by placing the village watch more under executive authority than it now is.

"At present the punchayet, which is in other words the representative of the village community, not only appoints the chaukidars, but has authority under the law to decide within specified limits how many chaukidars shall be employed and to fix their salaries. On these three main points the power and authority of the punchayet is curtailed by the present Bill. It is proposed to allow the punchayet to nominate, but the appointment of the village watch will rest in future with the District Magistrate. It is laid down also that the Magistrate and not the punchayet shall determine the number of chaukidars within specified limits. This is a proviso which experience has shown to be very necessary. The law authorises the punchayet now to fix the number of chaukidars, and in practice it has been found that they reduce the number, and the Magistrate has been obliged to interfere to maintain the minimum number of chaukidars prescribed by law. They have done so without any specific legal authority, but it is only in this way that the full number of chaukidars has been maintained. Under the present Bill, the Magistrate is vested with the power he has hitherto informally exercised. Similarly, it is proposed—and this is a point of at least equal importance—that the Magistrate shall fix the salary of the chaukidar. The salary is now fixed by the punchayet, and the tendency is to fix it at a rate so low as to be below the standard of efficiency. Per contra there is a provision in the present Bill which may be said to be of a more radical character than anything the present law contemplates. Under the present Act, the punchayet is appointed by the District Magistrate. The Bill, I have in my hand, proposes that under certain conditions the punchayet may be elected by the villagers, introducing thereby the elective principle into villages. Now, Mr. President, this is not a section of the Bill with which I personally have much sympathy. My own view is not in favour of introducing democratic institutions into India, and I do not think that the introduction of the elective principle into villages will be calculated to benefit the villagers in any way. However, it has been thought advisable to leave this section in the Bill for the present, and it is hoped that there may be a discussion in Council, and that public opinion may be elicited, so that the Government may know what the views of others are on the subject. The idea is one which was put forward by the late Police Commission, and the Government are not pledged to it in any way; but if it is found that public opinion, as expressed through this Council, is in favour of the provision, then the Government will have no objection to allow it to remain.

"For the rest, the changes proposed in the law are more or less of detail. Powers of arrest are given to chaukidars, thus assimilating their powers to those now exercised by the regular Police. An important section is introduced authorising the Magistrate, if the collections by the punchayet are very bad, or if he finds that the chaukidar is imperfectly paid, to appoint a Government Collector of the chaukidari tax by whom the chaukidari rate will be levied and paid to the chaukidar. This is a provision which exists in the present law only, so far that it is within the competency of the punchayet to apply to the Magistrate to appoint a tahsildar. But the Bill authorises the Magistrate under specified conditions to appoint a tahsildar of his own accord.

"And then, lastly, there is a section introduced under which fines imposed on chaukidars are credited to a District Chaukidari Reward Fund, the control of which rests with the Magistrate. At present fines, when realised, are credited to the Village Chaukidari Fund; that is to say, they pass to the punchayet. The Magistrate has no control over them, and the effect is that if the punchayet and the chaukidar work together and are friendly one with the other, no fine whatever can be inflicted on the chaukidar. It is thought desirable that the Magistrate of the district should have the power of inflicting some punishment on chaukidars other than dismissal. The fine will then be credited to a Reward Fund for distribution among deserving chaukidars, a provision which has always been much needed, and is calculated to improve the administration of the Village Police Force.

"The present legislation will not in any way touch Part II of the existing Act, which relates to chakran or service land. That is a very complicated and elaborate matter, which is reserved for further consideration and legislation. The present Bill is introduced simply with the objects, I have described, of strengthening the control of the executive authorities over the village police.

"I have now the honour to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton said:—"I now move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I may say that it is the intention of the Government to circulate the Bill widely, and to invite non-official as well as official opinion upon it. I propose to add the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Risley to those on the paper. He was a member of the Police Commission, and is in a position to afford valuable assistance in considering the measure. The Committee to whom I propose to refer the Bill will, therefore, consist of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Mr. Risley, the Hon'ble Babu Gonesh Chunder Chunder and the Mover."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE BILL.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison moved for leave to introduce a Bill for the regulation of Warehouses and the maintenance of a Fire-brigade.

He said:—"As I am going to ask your Honour afterwards to suspend the Rules of Business, I need not make any remarks on the Bill at this stage."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business to enable him to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council and referred to a Select Committee.

The Hon'ble the President having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison said:—"I now beg to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council. The main object of this Bill is, in on word, to relieve the jute industry from bearing the entire cost of the Fire-brigade in Calcutta as it now does. The jute industry has reached this position rather by a process of drift than by any intention on the part of the Legislature, to saddle it with the whole of this charge. As a matter of fact, the Fire-brigade in Calcutta and the establishment of jute warehouses in Calcutta, were almost synchronous. Prior to 1872, there was no Fire-brigade worthy of the name; the Municipality maintained a few hand engines, and whatever they maintained, they paid for. In 1866, when the Municipal Act was amended, the danger arising from jute warehouses, especially from unpressed jute, was so great that certain sections were introduced to provide for the right of inspecting them. Soon after, in 1871, severe fires broke out in Calcutta, which were distinctly traceable and due to jute warehouses, and upon that the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, the British Indian Association, and several other bodies petitioned the Government to take the matter into their serious consideration and protect the public, and the outcome of that was the first Act of 1872, which imposed fees on jute warehouses varying from Rs. 250 to Rs. 1,000, and at the same time provided for the maintenance of an efficient Fire-brigade, and steam fire-engines were ordered out in that year for the first time. Apparently it was not the intention of the Act that the fees should cover the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, because a tax was imposed on insurance offices at the rate of eight annas on every Rs. 10,000 insured, and it was also provided that the Municipalities of the town and the suburbs should make good any deficiency in the income. But, as a matter of fact, partly, I suppose, owing to the great multiplicity of jute warehouses, and partly owing to the fees having been fixed so high, the income very far exceeded the expenditure, as would be seen by the fact that between 1872 and 1881, the Government made grants from the Fire-brigade Fund of Rs. 40,000 to widen the street opposite the Municipal Office; of Rs. 16,552 as a contribution towards the Lock Hospital; of Rs. 10,000 for improvements in the suburbs, and, lastly, of Rs. 60,000 to help towards the widening of a portion of the Chitpur Road. Thus it came about that, although a small portion may have been due to the tax upon insurances which was not abandoned till 1879, practically the jute industry paid for the whole of the Fire-brigade, and so much more that large funds accrued at the disposal of the Government which were appropriated for beneficial purposes for the town and suburbs. Accordingly in 1879 another Act was passed—one amending Act had already been passed in 1875 which does not bear much upon the present question—in order to reduce the fees. The tax on insurances being no longer required was abandoned, and it was arranged that the Government should fix the rates in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioners, and as a matter of fact, the rate was fixed at a sum not exceeding ten per cent. upon the annual valuation of jute warehouses; and a rule was also passed that the town should bear 7-10ths and the suburbs (not Howrah) 3-10ths of the entire cost of the Brigade. However, as the number of jute warehouses went on increasing, and as land was cheaper and sites more available in the suburbs, it very soon appeared that the town warehouses had to be taxed very much more than those in the suburbs to keep up these proportions. The suburbs met its 3-10ths share with the greatest possible ease, whereas the town had to keep up the rate at its maximum to meet its share. Accordingly in 1883 the Act No. IV, which it is now proposed to repeal by this Bill, was passed—first, to abandon the proportion of 7-10ths and 3-10ths, and to place jute warehouses in the town and the suburbs on the same footing, and instead of having separate Fire-brigades for Howrah and the town and suburbs, as had been done before, to have one Fire-brigade for the whole urban area, for the town and all its environs on both sides of the river, and to introduce the same rule in Howrah as regards fees upon jute warehouses. It was arranged that the inspection of jute warehouses should be vested in the Municipality, as also the collection of the fees, and for this purpose they were allowed to take 20 per cent. of the entire proceeds, and the remaining 80 per cent. were paid to the Commissioner of Police for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade; and as a matter of fact these fees, with the receipts from the petroleum fees and from other sources, had as nearly as possible just maintained the Fire-brigade. So that since 1883 it had come to this, that the jute industry no longer paid more than was necessary, but it still paid practically the whole cost of the Fire-brigade of the town and its environs. The Fire-brigade, which is useful, if not often for pucka houses, very much for bustees and huts, has been entirely supported from this one industry alone; for although 'cotton' is included, almost the whole of the receipts come from jute. The Chamber of Commerce represented that this was not fair; that though there was a provision that any deficit should be made good by the Municipality, yet, as a matter of fact, the rate of fees which was levied was sufficient to meet the entire cost of the Fire-brigade, and upon this representation of the Chamber, the Government were evidently satisfied as to the general justice of the protest, and they accordingly appointed a Committee upon which the Chamber, the Police, the Corporation of Calcutta, the Port Commissioners and some others were represented.

"I was one of the members of that Committee, and therefore I am able to speak from personal knowledge of its proceedings. It was found that all were unanimous that it was not just to expect that the whole cost of the Fire-brigade should be paid by one industry. But then two separate principles claimed recognition. One principle was, that though the jute industry ought not to bear the whole cost, it was sound principle that warehouses for hazardous goods, which, combined with huts and bustees, were the chief sources of fires, should pay more than the ordinary sum payable for substantial pucka houses where the risk of fires was very small. The other principle put before us was, as a matter of fact, that all such distinctions, however justifiable in principle, were difficult to carry out in equity and practice, and therefore should be abandoned. Both in Bombay and in England it has been recognised as the simplest and best course to have a uniform taxation on all classes of property. In Bombay, there is a tax of $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. on the valuation for the Fire-brigade. In England, Fire-brigades were generally supported in the same way. But the Committee thought that, in the first place, such a principle was not nearly so applicable to India as to England, because in Calcutta there was scarcely any risk of fire at all from pucka houses in which fires were so seldom lighted in the main building; whereas, on the other hand, we have much more risk from warehouses in Calcutta. In the second place, the Committee thought that, although they might not have been willing to introduce it for the first time, a distinction between hazardous and non-hazardous goods which had been recognised for 20 years ought not to be needlessly abandoned. They thought that there was no reason to pass suddenly from one extreme to another, and consequently they adopted the middle course of continuing to place considerable extra taxation on hazardous goods, and at the same time to make the whole community contribute towards the cost of the Fire-brigade.

"On looking about also they saw there was another source of revenue which clearly ought to be utilised. In the town of Calcutta dangerous and offensive trades pay, as is reasonable, extra taxation in consequence of their character, such as depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags which, barring the latter, cannot be said to be offensive but dangerous, and it seemed to them reasonable that their inflammability should be recognised as a source of income towards meeting the cost of the Fire-brigade. Consequently, the Committee thought that the proceeds of these licenses, which in the Municipality were taken over and above the ordinary trade license, ought to be added to the Fire-brigade Fund, and ought to form one source of its revenue.

"Then came the question of apportionment—a very difficult matter to deal with; because it is obvious that so many indirect considerations enter into what is a fair apportionment, that it is hardly possible to do more than adopt a general approximate apportionment. As regards this, the Committee were at first inclined to think that jute and cotton ought to pay 50 per cent., and depôts of wood, hay, straw, &c., 20 per cent. On further consideration and further correspondence with the Chamber, the proposals made were of this kind. In the first place, that the law was defective at stopping at unpressed and unscrewed jute. In the law, as it now stands, which the Bill which is now introduced will repeal, jute and cotton meant respectively jute and cotton not pressed or screwed for shipment. Now it so happened that one of the largest and worst fires recently occurred in a warehouse which had no unscrewed or unpressed jute; and it was asked why should these, which were obviously hazardous goods, though not in the same degree, be exempted altogether. In the same way it was pointed out that all gunnies were extremely dangerous, and so were rope manufactories; and, therefore, the Chamber contended that the area of hazardous goods ought to be increased. Eventually it was agreed that 20 per cent. was too much to take from depôts of wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was reduced to 10 per cent., and, on the other hand, the percentage to be paid by hazardous goods of the nature of warehouses was extended to 60 per cent. That left 30 per cent. to be met, and the question was considered whether the tax should not be re-imposed upon insurance offices. But looking at the fact that the tax would be paid by the insurers who may be taxed over again, and on various other grounds, the Committee did not recommend that this should be adopted. The Bill, therefore, proceeds on these lines; 60 per cent. of the cost to be imposed on hazardous warehouses, but what is to be exactly included in this has been left somewhat undetermined in the Bill, because the representatives of the Chamber proposed to include a very large number of goods. The Council are probably aware that there is a separate Act for the regulation of petroleum, and that fees are already paid by it for the support of the Fire-brigade. Of course it is not pretended that godowns used for retail trade should be touched. There is a section of the Bill which relates to hazardous goods, but whether all these ought to be included in it or not is a matter upon which the Committee did not make any definite recommendation, because further discussion of them appeared to be infructuous except by the authority which would have the power to decide the point. They thought it best, therefore, to leave it to the Council to determine precisely what should be included. The Bill goes so far as to include, as liable to pay under the hazardous schedule, all kinds of jute, pressed and unpressed, and warehoused for storage, and all store-houses for oil other than petroleum or ropes or rope material or any other substance or thing for the time being subject to the operation of this Act. The system on which it is proposed to work the Act is this: the Commissioner of Police will prepare a budget to show the whole expenditure on the Fire-brigade, on the receipt side of which he shall show all the various receipts for licenses for fireworks, petroleum and other sources. This, of course, will show a deficit which will be met to the extent of 60 per cent. by a tax on warehouses under the Act, and of 40 per cent. on the Municipalities. The reason why 40 per cent. is to be taken from the Municipalities is this, that, under the present law, the Municipalities have the entire control of the license fees from dangerous goods, such as wood, hay, straw, coal and rags, and it was not thought desirable to fetter their discretion more than at present; it was therefore left to them to decide what fee to impose. At present they do get nearly ten per cent. of the cost of the Fire-brigade, but it is open to them, as far as the law allows, to increase or decrease these fees, and then make good the remainder. If they keep the fees as they are now actually collected, the amount which they will have to contribute from other funds will be about 30 per cent. These fees are left in their possession and control, and all the Government will expect from them will be a contribution of 40 per cent. The other 60 per cent. will be raised in a somewhat tentative manner by licenses on hazardous warehouses. Estimates will have to be framed of the assessed value of the properties, and a percentage fixed. If in the first year it proves too much, in the next year the Government will reduce it. Anyhow, it will be the duty of the Government to work this percentage so that it practically provides for the share which falls on these industries. One more change the law introduces, mainly in the interests of economy. It is to transfer the inspection of these warehouses from the Municipality to the Police. The Police have now the inspection of all petroleum godowns; they have facilities in their present establishment far greater than the Municipalities have, who have to maintain a special establishment for the purpose.

"The Police have an organization which already enables them to carry out inspections, and no doubt they will carry it out at a much cheaper cost than the 15 per cent. which is estimated to be the cost to the Municipality. The Municipality will continue to grant licenses at the rate at which the Government may lay down, and they will collect the fees, and after appropriating 5 per cent., will make over the rest to the Government. As regards the charge of the Fire-brigade, the question was raised whether any alteration should be made in its management; but the Committee, and the Government in accordance with their views, considered that the management of the Fire-brigade has been highly satisfactory. I speak with some personal knowledge, and I think it is very well managed. Though it was originally under the Corporation, it was found convenient as early as 1872 to make over the management to the Commissioner of Police. The Act of 1879 sanctioned this change, and that arrangement has remained in force ever since. But as regards economy and efficiency, it is much better managed than in Bombay, where a $\frac{3}{4}$th per cent. rate is levied. There the Fire-brigade is in the hands of the Corporation, and the expenses are out of all proportion to the collection of the rates. The Police furnishes a very efficient body of firemen, who are only paid on the occurrence of fires, which is a far more economical arrangement; and it is a great advantage that the same men who have the management of the brigade should, in case of necessity, have Police powers also. Therefore the Act leaves the management and control of the Fire-brigade untouched. These are the general outlines of the Bill under consideration. I now beg leave to introduce it, and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Officiating Advocate-General, the Hon'ble Mr. Wallis, the Hon'ble Shahzada Mahommed Furrokh Shah and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Walsh, of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways, at the disposal of the General Department for employment as special Inspector of Factories in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be desirable, when publishing the revised rules under the Indian Factories Act, to take the opportunity to place on record the principal amendments made in the original Act XV of 1881 by Act XI of 1891, which came into force on the 1st January 1892.

2. The principal changes made by the new Act XI of 1891 are as follows:—

(1) The meaning of the term "factory" has been changed, so that it now includes premises (of certain descriptions) where 50 workmen, not 100 as formerly, are employed.

Section 3 of Act XI of 1891.

(2) The term "factory" may be extended to include other premises, for all or sundry purposes, if less than 50, but not less than 20 workmen are employed.

Section 18 of Act XI of 1891.

(3) The term "child" now includes any person under the age of 14 years, and not 12, as formerly. Now, no child under the age of 9 may be employed; formerly, no child under 7 could be employed.

Sections 5 and 9.

(4) Inspectors of factories can now be appointed either by name or by office, and, besides any other persons who may be so appointed, the District Magistrate remains Inspector of all factories in his district.

Section 6.

(5) The payment of prescribed fees to certifying surgeons for examining children and granting certificates of age to them, has now been provided for by the law, instead of being left to executive order.

Section 8.

(6) The fraudulent use of certificates of age has been made punishable with fine.

Section 15(2).

(7) An interval during the day for food and rest is to be allowed to all operatives, and not to children only as before. Sunday holidays are, with some small exceptions, to be obligatory for all operatives.

Section 10.

(a) There must be a stoppage of work for a full half hour between noon and 2 P.M., except in factories in which a system of employment in shifts or sets approved by the local Inspector is in force.

(b) Employés may work on Sundays to examine and repair machinery, but otherwise no person may be employed in a factory on a Sunday, unless he has had or will have a holiday on one of the three days preceding or succeeding the Sunday.

(c) The Governor-General in Council may exclude any class of factories from the operation of the rules as to holidays and stoppage of work, and the Local Government may allow Sunday labour in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed.

(8) Special provision has been made for the protection of women and children. No woman may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M. No woman may be employed for more than 11 hours in any one day, and every woman is to be allowed rest in the proportion of 1½ hours to 11 hours' actual work. Factories of any class employing women in particular processes may be exempted from these provisions. No child may be employed before 5 A.M. or after 8 P.M.

Section 10.

The maximum employment for a child has been reduced from 9 to 7 hours, and for every 6 hours' actual work a child must be allowed an interval of half an hour.

Notices are to be put up in English and the vernacular, showing the intervals of rest allowed for women and children.

(9) Rules can be made for the water-supply, proper ventilation, and sanitation of factories; also for the prevention of overcrowding in them.

Section 16

(10) Occupiers of factories can be required to furnish such returns, occasional or periodical, as may be necessary for the effectual carrying out of the Act.

Section 16.

3. It has been announced that it is not the intention of the Governor-General in Council to exercise the powers enabling him to exempt persons and factories from the rules which require stoppage of work for food and rest and cessation from Sunday labour, and regulate the employment of women, except in cases in which the parties interested make, through the Local Government, a formal application for exemption and bring forward convincing reasons in justification of their proposals. The Local Government will then determine upon the representations of those interested in the industries concerned, and upon a review of the circumstances of each case, what industries are entitled to exemption under the powers which the Act enables it to exercise. It is the intention of the Government of India to allow Sunday labour only in rare and exceptional cases, in addition to the cases in which the Local Government can allow it in factories where certain kinds of necessary work are performed. The Local Government will decide whether the work performed satisfies the conditions of any one of the three heads specified, i.e., where the work performed (i) necessitates continuous production for technical reasons, or (ii) supplies the public with articles of prime necessity which must be made every day, or (iii) by its nature cannot be carried on, except at stated seasons, or at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces, but, if it does, the exemption will be granted as a matter of course.

4. With a view to securing a strict observance of all the provisions of the Factory Act, it has been decided to appoint a special Inspector under section 3 of Act XV of 1881 for Bengal, and his services will also be utilized in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Should it be found feasible and expedient hereafter to extend his jurisdiction, this will be done; but for the present it will be limited to the provinces mentioned. Mr. C. A. Walsh of the Locomotive Department of the Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways has been selected for the post, and his appointment will be duly notified.

5. Besides the special Inspector, the Civil Surgeons of districts, or private medical practitioners, if suitable persons can be found, will also be appointed Inspectors conjointly with District Officers. The medical men so appointed will also be the Certifying Surgeons under section 5 of the Act, as the Lieutenant-Governor believes that the amalgamation of the duties of Inspector and Certifying Surgeon will help to secure the more effective performance of the duties of inspection. In the case of children employed in a factory, when an Inspector, seeing them at work, has reason to believe them to be under the age limit prescribed by the Act, he can take evidence on the spot or otherwise. He would also be entitled to take exception to the certificate which a child holds as not applying to him, and to prohibit his employment until he procured another certificate; and, if he had been himself the certifying officer, he could probably say whether a particular child was of such an age or physique that the certificate produced would have been signed by him. A medical officer would be the best authority on all questions of sanitation in connection with factory labour, and his visits of inspection should be made at irregular hours. The duties of the medical officer will be limited generally to seeing that the provisions of the law as regards children are not infringed, and to suggesting sanitary improvements to the Magistrate, who, by virtue of his office, will be an Inspector. In the 24-Parganas, where the time of the District Magistrate is already fully occupied, the senior Covenanted Assistant or Joint-Magistrate will be the ex-officio Inspector.

6. Under section 5 of Act XV of 1881 as amended, a fee of 4 annas will be paid to the Civil Surgeons of districts, or such other persons practising medicine or surgery as the Local Government may from time to time declare to be Certifying Surgeons for any local areas, for each certificate granted by them. The same medical officers, who will be appointed under section 3 of the Act by name or by office to be Inspectors, will also be required to give the necessary certificates of age under section 5. These officers will be as follows:—

I. In the district of the 24-Parganas—
   (1) The Resident Medical Officer of the Campbell Medical Hospital, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the south of Canning Street, and for Sealdah.
   (2) The Resident Medical Officer of the Mayo Hospital, Calcutta, for so much of the town of Calcutta as lies to the north of Canning Street.
   (3) The Civil Surgeon of Hooghly for thána Naihati, in the 24-Parganas.
   (4) The Station Staff Surgeon of Dum-Dum for that sub-division.
   (5) The Medical Officer in charge of the Northern Suburban Hospital for Baranagore in the 24-Parganas.
   (6) Mr. J. M. Comley, M.R.C.S., for the factories at Budge-Budge.
   (7) The Civil Surgeon of the 24-Parganas, for the rest of the district.

II. For all other districts, the Civil Surgeon of the district.

The officers indicated in this paragraph will notify to the managers of the factories with which they are respectively concerned the place where and the time when they will be prepared to examine candidates for employment and grant certificates of age.

7. A Committee composed of the officers and gentlemen named in the margin was appointed to assist Government in framing the rules and forms of registers under the Acts. The rules, &c., as framed by them were published in draft as required by the law, and criticisms were invited for a period of two months. A few criticisms have been received, and the rules finally approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, after consideration of the suggestions made, are now published for general information. No rules regarding the fencing of machinery and mill-gearing, and for regulating the superficial, cubic and ventilating space per operative, have been at present laid down. But the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to prescribe any rules which experience and the reports of the several Inspectors may hereafter show to be required.

8. The notification of the Government of India, No. 428, dated 25th March 1892, under section 18, clause (2) of the Indian Factories Act XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891, has been attached to the Rules under the Act for convenience of reference.

Explanation.— .. indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

Calcutta, the 3rd May 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 30TH OF APRIL 1892.

DURING the greater part of the previous week conditions had been slightly disturbed, and local storms with rain had been numerous in East and North Bengal. On the last day or two, however, the number of nor'-westers which had occurred had became much smaller, and weather was generally becoming fairly settled. The changes of meteorological conditions which occurred on the 24th were generally very small and of little importance, and weather therefore continued fine, but the readings recorded on the morning of the 25th instant showed that a very rapid fall of pressure had occurred, which had formed a well-defined though rather shallow barometric depression in Bihár with a centre near Bhágalpur, where pressure was about a quarter of an inch below the normal, and which feeble depression produced a slight cyclonic circulation of winds over a part of the province; while apparently, owing also to the existence of this depression, extremely strong moist winds set in over the head of the Bay, and spread over a large part of the interior of the province. Conditions continued to a great extent unaltered on the 26th, while on the 27th a very rapid increase of pressure took place, the rise being very large in the north of the pressure, and at Dinajpur it almost equalled a quarter of an inch. These disturbed conditions naturally gave rise to a few local storms with rain in East and North Bengal, but the falls were not very general. On the 28th pressure continued to rise generally over the province, but there were a good many stations reporting local falls of the barometer, again pointing to the existence of disturbed conditions; and on the 28th a considerable number of stations in the eastern and northern districts reported moderate rain accompanying local storms. On the 29th the pressure changes continued rather irregular, and local storms were reported in the central and south-eastern districts; but on the 30th a very rapid fall of pressure took place, particularly in North-East Bengal, where again pressure became nearly a fifth of an inch below the normal, while the general pressure over the province was a tenth of an inch in defect. Again, owing to the existence of these disturbed conditions, local storms with rain occurred in the southern, eastern and northern districts, and on this day a few stations in North Bihár even reported rain. It will thus be seen that for the greater part of the week conditions have been disturbed, principally in the eastern and northern districts, and thus local storms with rain have been rather numerous. The meteorology of the week has also been characterised by the unusually large barometric changes which have occurred, and by the tendency to the formation of low-pressure areas in the north and north-east of the province, and probably in consequence of this distribution of pressure by the existence of unusually strong southerly winds at the head of the Bay.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been largely below the normal, the defect at the majority of stations exceeding a tenth of an inch, and generally varying from 0·09″ to 0·12″. The defect is largest at Sibsagar, where it equals 0·134.″ and in Assam generally it equals 0·11.″ It has also been rather large at the stations in Central and West Bengal and South Bihár, where at the beginning of the week a distinct barometric depression existed.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature have also been very considerable during the week, and the average mean temperature of the whole province has been no less than 3·4° in excess of the normal, while in South Bihár and Chota Nagpur the excess has been as large as 5°. In Assam, on the other hand, the excess has only equalled 0·8°.

Some very high maximum temperatures have been recorded during the week, and thus temperatures of from 110° to 113° have been registered at Cuttack, Balasore, Midnapore, Bankura, Raniganj, Dehri, Arrah, Gaya, and Chaibassa.

Rainfall.—The average fall of rain in East Bengal during the week has been 2·68 inches, or about 18 per cent in excess of the usual fall for the period. North Bengal has averaged 0·80 inch and South-West Bengal 0·50 inch, or about half the normal fall in each case. North Bihár has received the small fall of 0·12 inch, but the other divisions have been practically rainless. These falls, from the nature of the rainfall, have been rather unequally distributed. In East Bengal the districts of Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Tippera have received abundant rain, and the remaining districts, and particularly Faridpur, less abundant rain. In North Bengal, Darjeeling, Pabna, and Malda have received decidedly heavy rain, Bogra and Dinajpur moderate rain, and the other districts smaller amounts. In South-West Bengal, Murshidabad, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, and parts of Burdwan and Jessore districts have received good rain, and the other districts small amounts; and finally, in North Bihár the falls have been mainly confined to the Purnea and North Bhágalpur districts, though a few showers have also fallen in the Darbhanga district.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 30th of April 1892:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

The 7th May 1892.—The Lieutenant-Governor announces with profound regret the death by cholera at Chittagong, on the 5th May 1892, of Sir Henry Leland Harrison, Knight, Senior Member of the Board of Revenue and Member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

After a distinguished University career, Sir Henry Harrison joined the Indian Civil Service in 1860. He early attracted the attention of Government and was appointed Junior Secretary in 1867. For nearly six years he was Magistrate and Collector of the important district of Midnapore, and acquired the reputation of being one of the best district officers in Bengal. He then served as Secretary to the Board of Revenue, and for a short time as Secretary to Government. In April 1881 he was appointed Chairman of the Corporation and Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. For nine years he discharged the duties of this difficult office in a manner which won for him the approval of Government and the esteem and respect of the public. His name will always be associated with a period of greatly improved Municipal administration, and his public services to Calcutta constitute a large part of the history of the Metropolis during the past decade. In April 1890 he was appointed a Member of the Board of Revenue. The news of his sudden death, while visiting the district of Chittagong in the discharge of his duties as a Member of the Board, will be received with universal sorrow. This calamitous event has deprived the Lieutenant-Governor of one of his most trusted advisers, the Civil Service of one of its most distinguished ornaments, and the province and people of Bengal of one of their truest friends.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL,—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 33*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Masters of Inland Steam-Vessels:—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF MASTERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangements have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiner to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 2*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreignors.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English, their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Colour Tests.

8. The Government have made the following arrangements for the examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish colours:—

9. Examinations in colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

10. Any persons including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in Colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2*a*, and pay a fee of one rupee.

11. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office and if he passes he will receive a certificate to that effect.

12. If he fails, it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2*b*. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

16. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form Exn. 2*a*.

17. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

18. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This Officer has failed to pass the examination in Colours."

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

20. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as First Class Masters.

21. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for certificates of competency must first be examined in Colours.

22. A candidate for a certificate as first class master of inland steam-vessels must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served as second class master in charge of a steam-vessel for not less than three years, or he must be not less than twenty-two years of age, hold a certificate of competency as second mate granted under Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1883, or a certificate to which the provisions of any such Act have been made applicable under the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869, and have served as mate of an inland steam-vessel or master of a river flat for not less than one year; or he must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served either not less than three years at sea and three years as mate of a river-steamer or master of a river flat, or not less than six years as mate of a river steamer or master of a river flat.

24. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in Colours.

Failure.

26. If a candidate fails, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of such failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

27. If a candidate has failed in his examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a certificate of such lower grade.

28. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled so to do, for re-examination for the higher grade of certificate, he will be required to pay again the full fee.

Fees.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2*b*, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have filfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

31. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee will be returned to him.

32. If the candidate satisfy the examiners as to his knowledge of the prescribed subjects, and generally as to his competency to command an inland river steamer, they shall certify the same to the Government, which will then grant a certificate to the candidate.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 34*Marine.*—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers and First class Engine-drivers of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF ENGINEERS AND FIRST CLASS ENGINE-DRIVERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Application how to be made.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon Form Exn. 3*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 3*b*, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials required.

4. Testimonials of character and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct, for at least the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. If the service has been on shore, the testimonial must be signed by an employer; if at sea, by either the master, managing owner, chief or superintending engineer.

5. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidates can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 3*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

6. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificate as to age.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles.

9. Services which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as Engineers.

Qualification of candidate for Inland Engineer's Certificate.

10. A candidate must be not less than twenty-two years of age :—

Or, failing the above service, he must have served as a certificated engine-driver in charge of a steamer for not less than four years.

(b) He must be able to give a description of boilers and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connections.

(c) He must understand how to correct defects from accident, decay or other causes, and the means of repairing such defects.

(d) He must understand the use of the barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(e) He must state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(f) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(g) He must write a legible hand, and understand the first five rules of arithmetic and decimals, and their application to questions about consumption of stores, and full capacities of tanks and bunkers, the duty of pumps, and the direct strains in engines and boilers.

(h) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various constructions of paddle and screw engines in general use; as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

Qualifications for certificates of competency as first class Engine-drivers.

11. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 3*b*.), which must be filled up at the Port Office.

12. A candidate for a certificate of competency as first class engine-driver must have attained the age of twenty-two years.

13. He must have served an apprenticeship of at least four years if in India, or three years in the United Kingdom, and have served as assistant engineer for one year on a steamer of not less than 80 horse-power.

Or he must have been three years principal serang or tindal in the engine-room of a steamer, or have been for three years in charge of the engine of a factory or mill under a European manager or engineer, as well as one year principal serang or tindal or assistant engineer in the engine-room of a steamer under a certificated engineer.

14. He must have the testimonial shown in Appendix B filled up by the engineer with whom he has last served, or his other testimonials must contain all the particulars therein required.

15. He must pass a viva voce examination before the Board of Examiners as to the working of an engine and the use of its different parts.

16. He must be able, if required, to show his practical qualifications by one week's trial in a steamer after fulfilling the other tests to which he will be subjected.

General Rules as to Examinations.

Candidates not to take books, &c., into examination room.

17. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and applicants will not be permitted to take into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever; and, subject to the provisions referred to hereafter, they will also not be allowed to work out their problems on a slate or on waste paper.

18. Candidates will be allowed in the time allotted to cancel any part of their work, and, when required, additional papers will be supplied by the Examiners. These additional sheets must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

Punishment for breaking rules.

19. In the event of any candidate being discovered copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another during the time of examination, he will be regarded as having failed in his examination, and will be turned back for three months, in the same manner as if he had failed in the practical part of the examination; and no part of the fees he may have paid for examination will be returned to him.

Leaving examination room.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may substitute other data or another question.

Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

21. All applicants presenting themselves for examination for certificates of competency as engineers will be required to give written answers to eight out of a list of ten questions selected from Form Exn. 15*a*, "Elementary Questions for the first examinations of Engineers for certificates of competency." These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their viva voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the viva voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the viva voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

(Exn. 15.)

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15.

Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates (Exn. 16).

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

	Rs.
Engineers	12
First class engine-drivers	10

Failure.

33. If the applicant fails in the vivâ voce or practical part of the examination, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service afloat. If he fails in arithmetic or drawing only, he may come up again at any time. Engine-drivers may be examined de novo after six months, if the past examination showed that they might reasonably be expected to qualify.

General.

34. Certificates of competency of engineers and first class engine-drivers shall be made out and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1892.

At the commencement of the month fine weather of ordinary hot season character prevailed in all districts, though the pressure distribution was a little anomalous, inasmuch as there was a very considerable excess of pressure in the north-east of the province, while the excess diminished rapidly in amount towards the west. Hence easterly and south-easterly winds prevailed generally, and the air was unusually moist. Owing apparently to an increase in the strength of the westerly winds blowing in Central and Upper India, and which began to force back the moist easterly winds blowing in Bengal, conditions began to change from the 4th, from which date local storms with rain commenced in Assam and North Bengal, and which afterwards spread towards the south-west, and fairly general but very irregular rainfall was received in all districts, except parts of Behar and Chota Nagpur and Orissa, during the first week of the month. At the end of this period pressure had fallen to almost its normal amount, while winds had become of the normal westerly character at the western stations and south-westerly in the south-west of the province, while the easterly element in North Bengal and North Bihár had become weak. A few local storms with rain again occurred in the north and centre of the province about the 12th, but the meteorological changes which took place up to this time were generally small. A steady relative increase in pressure at the eastern stations then took place, baric gradients from east to west became steeper, and what was almost a barometric depression was formed in the extreme west of the province, and winds therefore became more easterly than they had been. At this time a series of local storms with rain set in over the greater part of South-West Bengal, the whole of North Bengal, the Purnea, North Bhágalpur, and Darbhanga districts of North Bihár, the Monghyr and South Bhágalpur districts of South Bihár, the Sonthal Parganas, and a considerable part of Chota Nagpur On the 19th the area of defective pressure in the west of the province extended, and in parts of Bihár and South-West Bengal pressure became from an eighth to a tenth of an inch below the normal, and this defective pressure continued to become more strongly marked up till the 22nd, when there was a defect of about a quarter of an inch in Bihár and North Bengal. Hence baric gradients for the whole of this time were unusually steep in Bengal and at the head of the Bay, and strong winds bringing up much moisture blew over the province from the Bay, and therefore during the whole of this period local storms with rain were numerous in East and North Bengal, while a considerable number of showers also occurred in South-West Bengal, and Orissa. From the 23rd, however, pressure began to increase rapidly, and by the 24th the feeble depression had disappeared. Again on the 25th a rapid fall of pressure gave a well-defined though shallow barometric depression over Bihár, which filled up on the 27th and 28th, while again on the 30th a very rapid fall of pressure took place, particularly in the north-east of the province, where a defect of about a fifth of an inch below the normal was recorded. Hence during the existence of these shallow low-pressure areas strong moist southerly winds were drawn in from the Bay, and a good many local storms with rain occurred, principally in East and North Bengal, up till quite the close of the month.

The principal features in the meteorology of April therefore have been the well-marked tendency to the formation of low-pressure areas or feeble barometric depressions over Bengal, and particularly over the north of the province, which has been accompanied by unusually large oscillations of pressure. With this distribution of pressure the southerly winds blowing from the Bay over Bengal have been exceptionally strong,—far stronger indeed than the winds which are experienced in the south-west monsoon. These strong southerly winds have brought up large quantities of moisture to the province, and have hence facilitated the formation of very numerous local storms or nor'-westers with rain, and thus the rainfall for the month has been rather largely in excess of the normal in East and North Bengal, the excess equalling from more than sixty to about eighty per cent. The rainfall has also been about normal in amount in South-West Bengal and in North and South Bihár; but, on the other hand, it has been very considerably in defect in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the whole month has been very distinctly in defect of the normal. This defect generally ranges from about 0·02″ to 0·03″ in the south of the province to about 0·05″ to 0·06″ at the northern stations, the mean defect at such stations as Sibsagar and Gaya being about 0·06″ and upwards. In Assam the general defect equals 0·035″, which is a little higher than the general defect for Bengal.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature during the month have been rather large. During the first week or ten days the mean temperature of the province was about 2·3° in excess of the normal. During the week ending the 16th of April the excess had fallen to 1·6°, while in the week ending the 23rd the general temperature of the whole province was practically normal, though defects were registered in East and North Bengal and North Bihár, and excess temperatures in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Finally, during the last week of the month temperature rose very considerably, and became about 3·4° in excess of the normal. Thus the mean temperature of the province for the month has been no less than 1·8° in excess of the normal for the period, but the highest excess has been recorded in South Bihár and Chota Nagpur, where it is from three to three and-a-half degrees. In Assam the small excess of 0 8° only has been recorded.

The highest temperatures recorded in each of the divisions during the month have been—in Orissa 112·5° at Balasore and 112 4° at Cuttack ; in South-West Bengal 112·4° at Midnapore ; in East Bengal 98·6° at Dacca ; in North Bengal 104·8° at Rampur Baolia and 104·1° at Malda ; in North Bihár 110 7° at Chupra ; in South Bihár 112 6° at Gaya ; in Chota Nagpur 102·3° at Chaibassa, and in Assam 94·8° at Dhubri.

Rainfall.—The falls in East Bengal have averaged more than six and-a-half inches, or two and-a-half inches in excess of the normal, and in North Bengal nearly four and-a-half inches, or about two inches more than usual. South-West Bengal has averaged two inches, North Bihár about an inch, and South Bihár about four-tenths,—in all cases nearly normal amounts. Orissa, however, has only received an average fall of five-tenths, or about one-third of the usual fall, and Chota Nagpur only a tenth of an inch, or less than a quarter of the average amount for April.

Taking up these divisions rather more in detail, in East and North Bengal all the districts have received fairly abundant rainfall ; in South-West Bengal Murshidabad, Burdwan, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, Nadia, Jessore, and Khulna have received good rain, Midnapore, Birbhum, and West Burdwan moderate rain, and Bankura, South-West Midnapore, and South 24-Parganas light rain only. In North Behar rainfall has been mainly confined to the Purnea and North Bhágalpur districts, and in South Bihár to the South Bhágalpur, Monghyr, and Sonthal Parganas districts. In Chota Nagpur only Manbhum and Singhbhum have received light rain.

In Assam there has been very heavy rain during the month, for Silchar has received 24·90 inches, and Sibsagar 15·19 inches, while Dhubri only reports 3·49 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the month of April 1892 :—

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 10th May 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 7TH OF MAY 1892.

AT the close of the previous week conditions were a little disturbed in Bengal from the fact that a shallow low-pressure area existed over Bengal, the centre of the defective pressure being in North Bengal, where a defect of about a fifth of an inch was registered. With these disturbed conditions a series of local storms or nor'-westers with rain occurred on the evening of the 30th April, the rainfall from which was reported on the morning of the 1st of May, or the first day of the present week, and from this cause the stations in all districts of East Bengal, except parts of Tippera and Mymensingh, reported moderate rain on this day. Pressure, however, commenced to rise moderately to rapidly on the morning of the 1st; the increase was still more marked on the 2nd, when pressure became above the normal, the excess being small in the south-western districts, while in North Bengal it almost amounted to a tenth of an inch. On the 3rd the pressure changes were small and variable, and on the 4th there was a slow to moderate fall, and on the 5th a slight rise, and the general pressure over the province still remained fairly normal. On the 6th and 7th, however, pressure was generally falling slowly to moderately, and on the latter date pressure became below the normal over the whole province. Hence the disturbed conditions which existed at the commencement of the week rapidly passed away with the disappearance of the depression and the establishment of high pressure, and except in or near the hills in North Bengal, rainfall practically ceased from the 1st. Towards the close of the week, however, with the falling pressures conditions became less settled than they had been, and on the 7th, or the last day of the week, rain which had probably fallen during local storms was reported at almost all the stations in North Bengal and at a few in East Bengal. During the whole of the week the fluctuations of temperature have not been very large, and on the whole temperature has been generally rising. Winds have also been fairly normal in character, being southerly at the southern stations, south-easterly in East Bengal, and easterly along the line of the hills, while at a few of the western stations westerly and south-westerly winds have been reported. Hence these winds have brought up a good deal of moisture to the province, though the number of local storms during the present week has been much smaller than in the previous week, owing to the disturbed conditions being less pronounced. Hence only East and North Bengal have received moderate rain during the week, the amounts being decidedly smaller than the normal for the period, while Assam has also received moderate to heavy rain. The other divisions of Bengal have, however, been almost rainless for the week, as only a few isolated storms have occurred in various districts.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been decidedly in excess of the normal, the excess usually ranging from 0·03″ to 0·05″. The smallest excess pressures are, however, reported from North Bengal and North Bihár, where they only average about 0·01″ to 0·02″. In Assam also the excess pressures have been comparatively small, and at Dhubri and Silchar they equal about 0 02″, while at Sibsagar even a defective pressure is recorded, but the correctness of this is doubtful.

Temperature—Has been exceptionally high during the week, and the mean temperature for the whole province has been no less than 4·2° in excess of the normal. This excess has been fairly equally distributed except in South-West Bengal, where it equals 5·4° In Assam there has been an excess temperature of only one degree.

Rainfall.—The average rainfall in North Bengal has equalled about one and-a-half inches, or a little less than the normal fall, while in East Bengal the falls have averaged about nine-tenths of an inch, or not much more than a third of the usual amount. The falls in all other divisions have been so small that rainfall has been practically absent in them.

These falls have also been rather irregularly distributed. In North Bengal the falls have been rather abundant in the districts of Jalpaiguri and Kuch Bihar, and to a less extent in Darjeeling and Rangpur; the other districts generally have received moderate rain except Malda, which has been practically rainless. In East Bengal, Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Tippera have received good rain and the other districts rather small amounts, except in the case of Backergunge which has been rainless.

In Assam during the week Dhubri has received 4·61 inches, Silchar 2·41 inches, and Sibsagar 2·11 inches of rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 7th of May 1892:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·2° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd May 1892.

No. 33*Marine* —Under the powers conferred upon him by section 29 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884, as amended by subsequent enactments, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules, in supersession of those published in the Appendix to the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th February 1890, to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Masters of Inland Steam-Vessels :—

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF MASTERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangements have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiners to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 2*b*, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English, their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Colour Tests.

8. The Government have made the following arrangements for the examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish colours :—

9. Examinations in colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

10 Any persons including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in Colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2_a, and pay a fee of one rupee.

11. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office and if he passes he will receive a certificate to that effect.

12. If he fails, it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2_b. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

16. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form Exn. 2_a.

17. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

18. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This Officer has failed to pass the examination in Colours."

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

20. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as First Class Masters.

21. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for certificates of competency must first be examined in Colours.

22. A candidate for a certificate as first class master of inland steam-vessels must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served as second class master in charge of a steam-vessel for not less than three years, or he must be not less than twenty-two years of age, hold a certificate of competency as second mate granted under Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1883, or a certificate to which the provisions of any such Act have been made applicable under the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869, and have served as mate of an inland steam-vessel or master of a river flat for not less than one year; or he must be not less than twenty-four years of age, and must have served either not less than three years at sea and three years as mate of a river-steamer or master of a river flat, or not less than six years as mate of a river steamer or master of a river flat.

23. Each candidate will be examined apart, and viva voce, in each and all of the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of river steamers under all contingencies.
(3)—The tide table.
(4)—Storm signals.
(5)—The provisions of Act VI of 1884, and the rules framed under sections 21, 29, 50 and 51 of the Act.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency as Second Class Masters.

24. Examination in Colours.—All candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in Colours.

25. A candidate for a certificate as second class master of an inland steam-vessel must not be less than twenty-one years of age and must produce satisfactory certificates of sobriety and intelligence, and that he has served three years as Mate of a small steam-vessel or as chief helmsman of a steam-vessel of over 80 horse-power, and shall be examined viva voce as to his knowledge in the following subjects:—

(1)—The rules of the road.
(2)—The management of small river steamers.
(3)—Storm signals.

Failure.

26. If a candidate fails, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of such failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

27. If a candidate has failed in his examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a certificate of such lower grade.

28. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled so to do, for re-examination for the higher grade of certificate, he will be required to pay again the full fee.

Fees.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2*b*, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have filfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

31. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee will be returned to him.

32. If the candidate satisfy the examiners as to his knowledge of the prescribed subjects, and generally as to his competency to command an inland river steamer, they shall certify the same to the Government, which will then grant a certificate to the candidate.

33. The fees are as follows:—

	Rs.
First Class Master	16
Second Class Master	6

General.

34 Certificates of competency of first and second class masters shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by qte Port Officer of Calcutta.

Punishment for breaking rules.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may substitute other data or another question.

These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their viva voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the viva voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the viva voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

(Exn. 15.)

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15.

Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates (Exn. 16).

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

OUTTURN OF RABI AND SPECIAL CROPS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1891-92.

THE following are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,
AGRICULTURE;
Calcutta, the 14th May, 1892.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Outturn of rabi and special crops in Bengal for the year 1891-92.

Rabi crops.—The climatic conditions most favourable to the cultivation of rabi crops in Bengal and Bihár are when monsoon rains cease early in October, but are followed by comparatively fine weather, with a few light showers during the remainder of that month and the first fortnight of November. In December and January there should be showers to enable the crops to attain their full development. At the time of harvesting during the latter half of February and March, the weather should be dry. Continuous cloudy weather at this time causes damage, and is attended with injury from insects of various kinds and from fungoid pests.

In the rabi season, 1891-92, the conditions were unfavourable throughout the greater portion of Bengal and Bihár. Deficient rainfall at the sowing season, towards the end of October and the beginning of November, contracted the area sown in the districts of Patna, Gaya, Darbhanga, Malda, Sonthal Parganas, and Palámau. On the other hand, owing to the scantiness of the monsoon rains of 1891, and the consequent partial failure of winter rice, there was an extension of the area sown under rabi in Rajshahi, Bogra, Pabna, Faridpur, and Purnea. The deficiency of rain in the latter half of October and the first half of November injuriously affected the outturn also in all parts of South-West, East and North Bengal, North and South Bihár, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa, with the exception of the districts of Mymensingh, Rajshahi, Bogra, and Singbhum, the Sadar subdivision of Balasore, and the subdivisions of Magura, Brahmanbaria, Chandpur, and Banki, in which rain fell in the latter half of October and in the beginning of November. Excessive rain at the time of, and immediately after, sowing reduced the outturn in Singbhum, and in Bhadrak in the district of Balasore. A general drought throughout the rabi season further aggravated the injury. A cyclone in the month of November did much harm to the rabi crops in the Sadar and Kendrapara subdivisions of Cuttack, and in Puri; and hailstorms, when the crops were approaching maturity, did considerable damage in the Sadar subdivision of Faridpur. Locusts injured rabi plants in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Deposits of silt, however, left by the floods of last year had a beneficial effect on some of the crops in the subdivisions of Goalundo, Brahmanbaria, Chandpur, Banki, and Jajpur.

Taking the Lower Provinces as a whole, the outturn of the rabi crops may be estimated at 9 annas.

Special crops.—During the season which has just expired, deficiency of rainfall throughout the monsoon months from June to October affected the outturn of sugarcane more or less, in all parts of the Lower Provinces, except Chota Nagpur and Orissa. Heavy rain in August, and a cyclone in November, injured the crop in the districts of Cuttack and Puri.

Tobacco—This crop was damaged by excessive rain and cyclonic winds in the month of November in Cuttack and Puri, and by a total cessation of rain towards the end of the season in February and March in Manbhum. An average crop is reported from the subdivisions of Basirhat, Bangaon, Brahmanbaria, Banki, Jajpur, Kolhan, and from the Sadar subdivision of the districts of Jessore, Chittagong, and Saran.

Poppy.—The outturn of poppy was seriously affected by the very dry weather at the beginning of the season in October in the Sadar and Siwán subdivisions of the district of Saran. This crop was damaged by cloudy and rainy weather at the end of February in the subdivision of Jahánabad, in the district of Gaya, and by high westerly winds in Patna. Hailstorms and high winds also did some harm in Shahabad. A full average crop is reported for the district of Monghyr, and for Hajipur, in the district of Muzaffarpur, but the average outturn throughout the poppy-growing districts is estimated at 11 annas only.

Mulberry.—A full average crop of mulberry is reported from the district of Bogra and from Kandi, in the district of Murshidabad. The average outturn for all mulberry-growing districts is estimated at 11 annas.

The outturn is represented in fractions of a rupee, sixteen annas being taken to represent an average crop.

M. FINUCANE,

Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture in Bengal.

The 2nd May, 1892.

Khulna ...	Satkhira ..	1,273	449	28	Mustard ... Peas ...	8 annas	4 annas	The outturn of rabi crops has been affected more or less this year for want of timely rain. The outturn of last year was not satisfactory for want of timely rain, and excessive rain when it was not needed.	The rainfall in October was below the normal, but the deficiency was made up by the rain which fell in the first fortnight of November. The outturn would have been very good had not want of rain in December and January checked the proper development of the standing crops.

Rainfall has been fair in the Sadar sub-division, being only ·49 below the normal.	The total area of the district, as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 2,703 square miles. Deficiency of rain at the time of sowing, and the total absence of rain in December and January, must have materially affected the outturn.

The outturn in the Nowgong sub-division would have been an average one had it no been affected by deficiency of rain in the latter part of the season. Failure of paddy crops, both at Natore and Nowgong, induced the cultivators to grow rabi crops on the lands on which paddy was grown, and hence the increase in area sown this year.	The total area of the district, as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 2,329 square miles.

Rangpur	Rangpur ...	1,151	900	10	Wheat ...	12 annas	14 annas	The Collector, Mr. Maguire, says—"I have been here too short a time to be able to give any definite opinion either as to the area under the various crops or to their outturn. The outturn is given according to the report, and I think it must in most cases be overstated. The cropped area does not agree with that given in returns of agricultural statistics. But I do not know how the figures in those were obtained, nor can I explain differences at present."	Discrepancies in areas have been noticed in the Remarks column of the Returns of Agricultural Statistics, and the Collector has been requested to revise his figures. Pending receipt of the revised figures, the figures now sent by the Collector have been accepted for this forecast.

Bogra ...	Bogra ...	1,452	913	420	Mussoor ...	15 annas	18 annas	The cultivation of most of these crops, especially mustard, has been considerably extended this year over a large area usually bearing rice, where the rice crop either was not planted or failed owing to the scantiness of the rain in 1891. The long drought between the middle of November 1891 and middle of February 1892 prevented the growth of mustard, and of a few other crops, but the rest started well in favourable circumstances early in the season, and did very fairly. The heavy rain and the silt left by the high floods increased the outturn in 1891 of the crops for which the land had to be ploughed since the third week of October 1890; but those (e.g., maskalai) which were then on the ground suffered from the floods, and others were retarded by the difficulty of timely preparation. Some damage was done at the beginning of November 1890 by locusts in the north-west of the district.

Pabna ...	Sadar ...	890	744	95	Pulses ...	10 annas	10 annas	Absence of flood-water, insufficient rainfall, and deposits of silt, are the main causes of the deficiency of the outturn this year. Failure of the rice crop increased the area sown under oil-seeds and sunn.	No rain fell from the 14th of November up to the 8th of February. This greatly impeded the development of the crops, which had started well with the showers that fell in the first week of November. The area estimated to be under rabi crops seems to be too large.

Dinajpur ...	Sadar ... Thakurgaon ..	4,118	2,600	Jute ...	220	10	18	The rainfall was excessive at the time of sowing and insufficient in June last year. Some damage was also caused to jute by locusts. Hence the outturn was low. The increase in the outturn of tobacco this year is due to timely rain at the time of sowing.	The total area of the district, as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 4,117 square miles. Excess of rain in May not only affected sugarcane, but also decreased the outturn of jute, by submerging the seedlings just after they were sown.

The high demand of last year for molasses induced the cultivators to grow sugarcane to a very large extent, hence the increase in area under sugarcane. Bogra ...	Bogra	1,452	913	Jute	.....	.....	.....	The area of the principal special crops was extended in 1891 over part of the area usually cultivated with rice, because of the short rainfall in 1891.	The outturn for Bogra appears to have been over-estimated; although in April and May there was sufficient rain, in the following months up to the end of October, the rainfall was not enough to enable the crops to attain their proper development.

ORISSA DIVISION.
Cuttack ..	Sadar ...	989	533	Tobacco ...	7	10	14	There was a heavy fall of rain in August, which affected the jute and sugarcane crops. Tobacco was damaged by the November cyclone, attended with heavy rain, in all but the Jajpur and Banki sub-divisions where the force of the cyclone was less felt, and there was also a good deal of of silt deposited on the tobacco-growing land in these two sub-divisions.	Total area of the district, as given in the latest Bengal Administration Report, is 3,632 square miles. The area for sugarcane appears too low.

ADMINISTRATIVE SETTLEMENT REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1891.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 15th May 1892.

RESOLUTION—No. 150T—R.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, for the year ending 30th September 1891.

In September 1891 the Lieutenant-Governor issued orders that in future the Director should furnish two settlement reports in the course of the year, viz., (I) financial, for the period from the 1st April to the 31st March, consisting of a brief, mainly statistical and financial, account of the progress of settlement work, and (II) administrative, for the period from the 1st October to 30th September, containing a full account of the progress of survey and settlement work in the Province. It was laid down that the latter report should ordinarily be due to the Board on the 15th November, and to the Local Government on the 15th December. As the Director was absent on privilege leave until early in November, punctual submission of the first report was not expected, but he was desired to prepare it as soon as possible after his return. Instructions were given in the Government Resolution of the 28th September 1891, on Mr. Finucane's annual report for the financial year 1890-91, with a view to the preparation of the report in the manner required by Government. The present report, which is the first Administrative Settlement Report furnished under the new system, is a great improvement on the reports previously laid before Government. It bears, however, so late a date as the 18th March 1892, and was not forwarded by the Board until the 14th April. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that Mr. Finucane has been constantly on tour since his return from leave, and it appears that he has been unable to obtain the material required by him from the Deputy Surveyor-General and several of the Settlement Officers. It is anything but satisfactory that the survey reports for Jalpaiguri, the Burdwan Raj khas mahals, Chittagong and Sarail, were not received by Mr. Finucane until the 11th to 30th of January (although they referred to the survey year which ends on 30th September), and that no report was furnished for Orissa. His Honour trusts that, with the appointment of Colonel J. E. Sandeman as Director of Bengal Surveys, all such irregularities will cease. No explanation has been offered for the delay in the local settlement reports. Sir Charles Elliott is willing to make due allowance for the change of system, and he agrees with Mr. Finucane in hoping that, timely notice having been given of what is required, the difficulties lately encountered will disappear, and that the next annual report will be submitted on the prescribed date.

2. Mr. Finucane has followed an intelligent order in dealing consecutively with (1) Government estates and temporarily-settled tracts, which are necessarily the most important settlement operations from a revenue point of view, (2) Wards' estates, and (3) private estates. In accordance with the orders on his last annual report, the Director has placed his account of the Orissa, Chittagong and Jalpaiguri settlements in the forefront of his report. Apart from the special position to be assigned to the Orissa, Chittagong and Jalpaiguri operations, Government also desired that an intelligent geographical order should be adopted both as regards the civil divisions and the districts and estates in those divisions. These instructions appear to have escaped notice, for the order observed has been as follows :—

(1) Government estates.		(2) Wards' estates.		(3) Private estates.
Division.	District.	Division.	Estate.	Division.	District.
Dacca ..	Backergunge.	Burdwan ...	Burdwan Raj Khas Mahals.	Burdwan ...	Midnapore.
Chittagong	Tippera.			Ditto ...	Birbhum.
Ditto ...	Noakhali.	Bhágalpur	Srinagar-Banaili.	Rajshahi ...	Dubalhati (Rajshahi).
Dacca ...	Dacca.	Dacca ...	Dakhin Shahbázpur.
Burdwan ...	Midnapore.			Chittagong	Tippera.
Presidency	Nadia.	Chittagong	Sarail (Tippera).	Bhágalpur	Sonthal Parganas.
		Orissa ...	Kujong and Kanika.

It is evident that geographical order has not been carefully or consistently maintained, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will not be necessary to again repeat his orders on this point. The appendices have been properly totalled as desired by Government.

3. Orissa.—The Survey Department, as already mentioned, has furnished no report of its work in Orissa. But it appears that 361 square miles were cadastrally surveyed by the end of September 1890, and 687 square miles between that date and the end of September 1891, total 1,048 square miles. The total expenditure on the survey is stated to have been Rs. 2,19,031, or just Rs. 209 a square mile. This is a considerable increase on the rate, Rs. 165 per square mile, previously reported. It is mentioned that Mr. Patterson, the survey officer, unfortunately overlooked the survey rule which requires parchas or jamabandi slips to be given to the raiyats at the time of survey; also the errors and inaccuracies of the khasras prepared by the Survey Department delayed the work of attestation, and even now the records of all the villages measured by Mr. Patterson before last rains have not all been sent in. With regard to these and other matters which have come to his notice, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it right to put on record his opinion that Mr. Patterson was entirely unfit for the position in which he was placed by the Survey Department, and that a hopeless block would have ensued had that officer not left Orissa, and had Colonel Sandeman not come in to set matters straight. Mr. H. R. Reily was in charge of the settlement since he joined on 16th February 1891 to the end of the year under report. He was assisted by Mr. Walsh, a Civilian of experience, Mr. Ambica Charan Sen, Mr. Tahiruddin Ahmed, and Mr. Baroda Charan Mitra, Statutory Civilians, Babus Hurish Chandra Roy and Chaku Lal Sarkar, besides others who from ill-health or other causes did not remain long in the Department. There were six circles and nine Assistant Settlement Officers in charge of them at different times, who were, it is said, in the field on an average 63 days each. This information would have been more valuable if the time during which they were on duty had also been mentioned. In future the Director should state for each officer the number of days (a) on duty, (b) on leave, c) on tour. The six circles have lately, i.e., in March 1892, been re-arranged under eight officers. The demarcation work has been transferred to the Survey Department. Up to 30th September the status of 29,190 tenants was determined and their rents recorded, and 138,042 plots were attested over an area of 83,752 acres. Jamabandi slips are now being distributed by the Survey Department, and it is hoped that in future each officer will be able to attest daily many more than 600 plots, which is the standard of work laid down, and to some extent attained, in Chittagong. No rents were settled and no land revenue assessed. Out of the 464 patwáris in Orissa, 277 were trained in survey, but their work is found to be more expensive than that of amíns. Arrangements have been made also for the utilization of the kánungos as required. The expenditure on settlement during the portion of the year ending 30th September 1891, during which the work was in progress, was Rs. 45,598.

The survey and settlement of Banki, in Cuttack, were completed before March 1891, at an average cost of 7 annas and 10 pies per acre. The estimate for a non-professional survey and for settlement was Rs. 1,64,411 for the 76,800 acres of the estate: the actual cost of a professional survey has been Rs. 25,097 and of the settlement Rs. 12,598, total Rs. 37,695, the increase of revenue obtained being Rs. 7,974. The final report of the proceedings has not yet been received. The Lieutenant-Governor has already characterised this delay as very unsatisfactory; a full explanation will be required from the Settlement Officer.

4. Chittagong.—Mr. Slack was in charge of the operations till the 11th of July, and Mr. C. G. H. Allen for the rest of the year under report. They were assisted by Mr. Atul Krishna Rai (for one month only), Babu Durga Charan Ghose, Babu Romesh Chunder Das, as Assistant Settlement Officers. The demarcation of the Sadar sub-division was completed with the exception of the hilly portions, the work done comprising 465 villages. The cadastral survey of 380 square miles had been accomplished by September 1890, and during the season under report 348 square miles were done, besides 112 square miles of topographical work. After September 1891 534 square miles of cadastral and 252 of new topographical survey remained, besides some important traverse work. Arrangements have been made to accelerate the rate of progress. Since the 1st January 1891 the work of preparing the records required for attestation in the Sadar sub-division has been made over to the Settlement Department. The records of 212 villages with an area of 205 square miles were handed over for settlement work. The Khanapuri of 477,682 plots was completed, and the entries regarding 306,463 plots were revised. In the Sadar sub-division the status of 33,679 tenants was determined and their existing rents were recorded. No fair-rent decisions were passed, and no land revenue was assessed. A scheme has been sanctioned for strengthening and utilising the khas tahsil establishment for the maintenance of the records.

In Old Thána Ramu the survey had been completed by September 1890. The settlement work was mainly conducted by Babu Jogendra Kumar Bose, who completed the attestation, dealing with the lands of 15,389 tenants, disposed of 558 original suits and 1,062 objections, and passed eight fair-rent decisions. Fair-rent decisions have been passed in 43 of the 50 villages in Ramu. Soil class maps are now in preparation and statements of the revenue assessable on the average soil class rates are being drawn up. The settlement expenditure amounted, during the year, to Rs. 58,892 in the Sadar and Rs. 15,389 in Ramu, the cost of the survey being Rs. 1,32,540 in the Sadar sub-division. A reasonable standard of work expected from each amín and Assistant Settlement Officer has been drawn up in Chittagong, but from the monthly progress reports received, His Honour has reason to fear that the standard required is not attained.

5. Jalpaiguri.—By the end of the year under report 765 square miles had been cadastrally surveyed, being practically the whole of the area under settlement. Besides this 174 miles of forest and 61 of waste lands had been surveyed, leaving 290 of forest and 340 of waste lands for the survey work of the current year. The records of 3,430 jotes were made over to the Settlement Officer. An area of 162,063 acres in 3,507 jotes in the Mainaguri tahsil was assessed during the year, giving an increase of Rs. 36,210 revenue, but the revised assessment has not been finally passed by the Commissioner. Mr. Sunder was in charge throughout the year, and was on tour for 217 days. He records the constant struggles of his subordinates with fever; he has at different times had five assistants, but the climate of the Duars has necessitated several changes among them. The three men last appointed have been employed in pargana Moraghat in collecting information preparatory to the settlement of the rates on jotes in the Falakata tahsil. It is unsatisfactory to find that some of the later records of the Survey Department were so carelessly prepared that they had to be returned for revision. The increase of revenue, amounting to Rs. 60,000, expected in the Mainaguri tahsil, is chiefly due to the extension of cultivation on nearly every jote, to the recovery of the amount which was remitted seven years ago under the reduction scheme then advocated and apparently sanctioned under misapprehension, and to the application of the rates approved for this settlement. Considerable delay has been caused by the necessity of requiring the people to record the mutations of ownership and to pay the fees due on this account. The cost of the survey during the year is separately stated to have been Rs. 1,03,658 or Rs. 1,10,784. Such discrepancies should be cleared up before this annual report is laid before Government. The expenditure on settlement was Rs. 30,459.

6. The work done in the settlement operations in progress, other than the important proceedings mentioned in the preceding paragraphs, has been sufficiently summarized in the Director's report, to which reference may be made. As the details have been reviewed for the financial year 1890-91, it is not necessary, especially at this late date, to review them again. A very few observations only are now required. In future the Administrative Settlement Report for the year ending 30th September will be the main report of the year, and the principal comments of Government will be reserved for the Resolution on it. The Srinagar-Banaili settlement, which has been completed, will shortly come under separate review. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that the dispute as to the standard of measurement in pargana Akberabad in the Malda district has been settled ex parte. In Backergunge there were 27 Government estates under settlement under the Tenancy Act, and up to the close of the year under report the proceedings had cost Rs. 30,015. The Director does not mention the enhanced revenue to be set against this expenditure, but from the statements furnished by the Collector of Backergunge it appears that an increase of revenue to the amount of Rs. 5,639 has already been obtained from seven of the villages, i.e., estates, and that a total increase of Rs. 25,114 is expected from the 27 estates. An explanation has been given of the discrepancies noticed in paragraph 11 of the Government Resolution of the 28th September 1891 in the number of estates under settlement. It is a matter for satisfaction that the compromise accepted by the Manager and the raiyats in Sujamutha has been worked out and brought into effect. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Director that the number of days spent on tour by the Settlement Officer, Dwijendra Lall Roy, viz. 65, in spite of the orders repeatedly given to him to go into every village and dispose of objections on the spot, was utterly inadequate. The Manager of the Burdwan Raj will be informed of the want of co-operation on the part of the Raj officials which has entailed delay and extra expense.

7. The total area of Government estates and temporarily-settled tracts under survey and settlement during the year was 9,090 square miles, of which 2,381 miles had been surveyed prior to, and 1,397 miles were surveyed during, the year under report, total 3,778 square miles; the total expenditure on survey and settlement from the beginning of the operations to the end of the year being Rs. 13,04,875, and the increase of revenue actually obtained being Rs. 1,10,078, or 8·44 per cent. on the outlay. This amount does not represent anything like the increase that will be obtained when the settlement operations are completed in Chittagong, Orissa, and Jalpaiguri, which are expected to yield an increase of revenue, amounting to about eight lakhs of rupees in addition to what has been actually obtained. The total area of wards' estates under settlement is 2,226 square miles, of which 1,945 square miles had been surveyed prior to, and 50 square miles were surveyed during, the year under report, total 1,995 square miles; the increase of rental actually obtained amounted to 6·96 per cent. on the outlay. The total area of private permanently-settled estates under survey and settlement was 815 square miles (inclusive of the Sonthal Parganas estates), the increase of rental obtained being 42·49 per cent. on the outlay.

From a revenue point of view, these results may be considered to be satisfactory. There has nowhere been any serious opposition to the proceedings, nor has any serious dissatisfaction with the results been expressed, on the part of either the landlords or tenants concerned.

8. Sir Charles Elliott agrees with the Board that much labour has been bestowed on the preparation of the Director's report, and that valuable financial results will be obtained from the operations under notice. He has had occasion more than once to state the importance which he attaches to surveys and settlements on administrative and statistical grounds, and his views are corroborated by everything that comes before him, especially in a Province dominated, as Bengal is, by the permanent settlement. The work done by Mr. Finucane in supervising the Settlement Department again merits the acknowledgments of Government.

ORDER—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department for information, and that a copy be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The period of registration of subscribers' names having expired on the 1st October, the price will in future be in India Rs. 45 and in England 3 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England, at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately.
